

PREFACE TO THE 2012 WEB EDITION

Judicial Role of Globalised Economy was published in 2005. It was greatly appreciated by distinguished experts. The book became out of print soon after its publication. Now this is the Web Edition of that book. This would enable everyone to go through this book.

It was not possible to update the book. I felt that there is not much material change to be taken into account to render the book relevant to our readers; yet I have tried to update certain important areas of the book by writing short Addenda (vide pp. iv to xv).

I am grateful to Justice D. P. Wadhwa, former Judge of our Supreme Court; and Shri Shanti Bhushan, Senior Advocate of the Supreme Court, & former Law Minister of India, for their words they spoke on the function organised to release the book.

I appreciate Shri Suresh Wadhwa for helping me to make this Web Edition. I couldn't have prepared this Web Edition without the help that I received from Shri Shikher Singh of www.taxindiaonline.com. He has structured the text for the Web Edition, and he has put the book on my www.shivakantjha.org.

I would be grateful to my readers if they send me their evaluation of the position I have taken on several great constitutional issues dealt with in the book. I would be eager to get the comments of my readers, I would request my readers to write to me on my e-mail : shivakantjha@gmail.com

Shiva Kant Jha

9 August 2012